INDOOR GARDENS BOAST CELEBRITY STATUS

Celebrity Garden Competition Features German-Themed Landscapes

NEW January Dates • NEW Venue • NEW Admission Price • FREE Parking

EUCLID, OH—The 67th annual Cleveland Home & Garden Show presented by the community hospitals of Cleveland Clinic offers Northeast Ohioans the beauty and splendor of spring in the midst of January. Thousands of sweet smelling flowers and budding trees installed by landscape professionals participating in the annual Ohio Landscape Association Celebrity Garden Competition will transform the Great Lakes Expo Center in Euclid into a garden paradise January 22-31, 2010.

The Great Lakes Expo Center located across from Euclid Square Mall at 1200 Babbitt Road is the new permanent home to landscaping ideas and expert gardening advice. Relocating the Home & Garden Show presented by the community hospitals of Cleveland Clinic to the 215,000 square-foot convention facility enabled Cleveland, Ohio-based Show Producer Expositions, Inc. to extend the Show to a 10-day January engagement with free parking and the lowest admission price in the event's history.

The Home & Garden Show presented by the community hospitals of Cleveland Clinic selected a fresh crop of elite landscaping professionals from across Northeast Ohio to design and install this year's sophisticated and fragrant indoor gardens. Utilizing the event's Wonderful Germany theme as inspiration, the horticulture and history of the great European country will resonate in each magnificent garden entry. The popular Celebrity Garden contest is the ultimate platform for reputable landscapers to showcase their company's impeccable skills including design, hardscaping, environmental impact and outdoor living.

Creating an impeccable "Small," "Medium" or "Large" garden entry for the competition requires thousands of work hours prior to the Show. In the end, the Home & Garden Show presented by the community hospitals of Cleveland Clinic will radiate with a surplus of creative ideas and inspiration. Guests looking to enhance a patio, install a water feature, beautify a tired landscape design or hire a professional to manage a backyard overhaul will be overwhelmed with options.

After strolling through the lush gardens, Show guests can cast a vote for their favorite garden design. From Opening Day through Tuesday, January 26, ballots to determine the 2010 People's Choice Award winner will be available at the Ohio Landscape Association (OLA) booth. Located in the Garden Area, the OLA is a non-profit trade association dedicated to establishing the highest professional standards in landscape design, contracting, and customer service. The People's Choice Award winner will be announced Wednesday, January 27.

Additional recognition for the landscapers is The Founder's Award. All participating landscapers will take part in a peer judging process to determine the 2010 recipient. Landscapers will evaluate their colleague's overall design and craftsmanship, while also considering use of plant material, special effects and attention to detail.

As an added feature, popular personalities from Cleveland-area radio, newspaper and television outlets will make scheduled appearances at their respective gardens throughout the Show's 10-day run. The nine landscapers and celebrities participating in the 2010 Celebrity Garden Competition include:
